

Going to a Concert at The MusikFest Café

A Social Story

presented by Yuengling

I am going to a concert at The MusikFest Café in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. There will be live music on a stage, and I will eat dinner in a large room with many tables.

When I arrive at The MusikFest Café, I will park my car, and walk past the Steel Stacks, to the ArtsQuest Center.

Before I go inside the ArtsQuest Center, I will put on my mask to keep myself and other people safe from COVID-19.

The MusikFest Café is on the 3rd floor. I can choose to take the elevator, or I can walk up the stairs.

When I get to the 3rd floor, I can clean my hands with sanitizer, and a volunteer will scan my concert ticket. I may have to wait on a short line before going in.

I will enter The MusikFest Café and will be greeted by a friendly person who will take me to my table.

When I get to my table, I will:

- 1. Get out my smartphone
- 2. Open the Camera app
- 3. Point the camera at the QR code
- 4. A link to the menu will pop-up
- 5. Click the link to view the menu

Practice!

SCAN ME

If I need help, I can ask my server!

When I am ready, a server will come to the table and ask me what I would like to eat and drink.

The server will put my order into the computer, and the order will go to the kitchen so they can start cooking my food. I will listen to the music while I wait.

While I wait for my food, I can color or do another preferred activity at my table, or if I need to get up from my seat, I can go look out the window.

First, a server will bring my drinks to the table. When my food is ready, the server will bring my food to the table.

I will enjoy the music while I eat my food. I will stay in my seat unless I need a break from sitting. If I need a break, I can go to the bathroom or go look out the window.

When the concert is over, the server will bring me my bill, and I will pay for my food, then it will be time to go home.
